

IS NOW

Dear Partner,

Following the merger of Advanced Photonix Inc. and Luna Innovations, Inc., we are pleased to inform you that the “Advanced Photonix Optoelectronic Solutions” division will soon be doing business as “Luna Optoelectronics”.

This change of name more appropriately represents the Division association with its parent company “Luna Innovations, Inc.” and allows our partners to communicate more easily with us as we integrate into one company with a single website, and shared services.

Impact to our partners:

- No change other than the name. Our communications to you will come from “Luna Optoelectronics”.
- We suggest that you update your database to reflect our new name.
- All previously available addresses (email and physical), as well as banking information are unchanged for now.

- Locations and personnel at the Division also are unchanged.

Future changes :

- Under our new name, “Luna Optoelectronics”, we will keep you informed of future changes relative to our division, as we continue our integration into the larger corporation.

The Luna Optoelectronics division is excited about this transition and expects to continue to develop profitable partnerships with all our customers and suppliers.

Incidentally, we will be participating as “Luna Optoelectronics” at the Photonics West tradeshow in San Francisco from February 16th through February 18th, 2016. Please visit us at booth #401.

Best Regards,

Jean-Pierre Maufra
